THE Cincinnati Enquirer, at first an opponent of the Title Investigation, is no changing its tune, and assumes to say that Mexicanization is not such a frightful thing niter all. It says the robbers in Mexico are in the majority, and might have added that they are trying to reach equal prominence in the United States.

Tit: Democrats throughout the country are in great delight, for the reason that they have heard that Senator Davis, of West Virginia, has discovered that the Treasury books will not balance into $200,000,000 When they learn that this is a mere mires under the Senator's disordered vision there will be less laughing on the back seats.

Some of the papers credit ALEX. STE-PHENS with an honest attempt by opposing the Porrisk impuity to prevent revolution. Perhaps the credit is due him. But there is a susplcton that his opposition was tinged ble up the Administration by placing it under obligations to the auti-Tilden wing o the Democracy for the preservation of its official safety. He is a schemer, is ALEX.

It is a noticeable fact that the portion of the Southern Democratic press opposed to the "ripping up of the settled past" and ousting President HAYES, is also opposed to Trance's auti-Southern-claims letter. The patriotism, or the conciliation, or whatever you may call it, of these Southern Democrats, never amounts to anything more than a love for the old flag with an approprintion concealed in its folds.

Let us take these men at their own words. They are, then, self-confessed revolutionists, and defiantly accept the responsibility of having pro-tracted the political disquiet and the commercial distrust consequent upon this investigation. The more is the pity, we add, for the Mathodist Church. The Democratic orcanizations within its nembership, and they are numerous, cluding pro-slavery congregations right here in the District of Columbia, are its greatest mne.

THE Burlington Hockeye sometimes looks at things with a very peculiar squint. Take the following, for instance:

General Geant hopes none of the Union soldiers will "ver feel a disposition to apologies" for their efforts in saving the country. gine for their efforts in saving the country. They nover will, but symetimes, when they see what kind of a country they saved, they must feel awfully tempted to apologize to somebody for something. For saving the JEPF DAYIS and SAMMY TILDEN part of it, for instance. And CRONIN; what man can look an old musket in the face and not blush to think that he fired it to secure CRONIN mileage clear across the continent and back. And ARN HEWITT. And KEY. When General GRANT himself thinks that he fugght KEY four years to make him Postmaster-develoral, doesn't the feel a little like apologizing himself? For surely cither thank or HAYES was wrong, and HAYES says "it wasn't him."

THE Nashville American, referring to the Southern Democracy are ungrateful, remarks

Mr. HAYES ought to know that there is no gratitude in politics. It is a plain matter of business. A man who does his duty will generally be sustained, not as a matter of gratitude, but as a matter of expediency. It pays to have seen who do their duty. While we do not regard the policy adopted the wisest policy, Mr. HAYES has no ground for complaint,

That's it, exactly. Such a thing as chivalrous gratitude, except in the way of a "lively sense of favors to come," is unknown to the average Southern Democrat. All their dealings with Republicans are plain matters of business. It is to be hoped this ungrateful insult will not pass unheeded in the proper quarter.

But there was a slight evidence of Yankee gullibility in some portions of the platform, especially in the plank alluding to the possibility of fair play and good government for Republicans in the Democracy-ridden Southern States.

This view of the case, it appears to us, should have some weight with the devotees of the Lost Canse in and out of Congress At any rate it is being quoted extensively by the Southern Democratic press as an assurance that all hope for the future has not yet departed. But Mr. Scott Lond and his fellow-Copperheads fortunately are as State's rights as he is unfortunately in his opposition to the sweeping force of the Por-TER iniquity. WHILE ALEX. H. STEPHENS is still receiving an unlimited amount of praise for his opposition to the jug-handled POTTER Investigation, it may not be amiss to recall the manner in which he yielded to the secession movement in 1861. A correspond-ent, commenting upon an interview printed in these columns last March, writes as follows regarding this matter:

lows regarding this matter;

I noticed some time ago in your paper the result of an interview between your reporter and Hon. A. H. Syrephers, in which Mr. S. maintains the right of soccasion, and that his opposition to that heresy in 1861 was based upon its inexpediency, &c. Now, in order that your readers may know how middly he opposed the secession ordinance in the convention, I will give you the substance if not the exact words of his speech before that body, of which he was a member. Mr. S. arose, with his hat in one hand and a small ratan cane in the other, with which he toyed as he spoke in a low, mild valce: "Gentlemen of the convention, you all know my opposition to the passage of this ordinance. If it is to be done, however, it were well it were done quickly;" and he took his scat amid the cheers of the meet violent supporters of secession, and his advice was followed by the passage of the ordinance quickly.

THE GREASER CONSPIRACY.

The country begins to be awakened to the fact that a deep-laid and demoniac conspiracy is on foot to revolutionize and de the Republic. The conspirators may resort to subterfuges to deceive and mislead the public mind, but they can no more dispel the fact than the ostrich can conceal himself by putting his head in the sand. The evidences are too numerous and cumulative to be disguised by deceit or dissimulation on the part of the conspirators. The pretease that they only intend to resort to their work is too thin and gauzy to hold

What means the drilling of the commun ists in our large cities—the incessant howl for allegation that President HAYES thinks the a reduction of the army—the rising feeling of boldness and enlivened hate toward the North on the part of Democrats in the South-the sudden backing down from the position that "the sacred and irrefragable title" of President HAYES was not to be assailed, and the fierce attack now made upon that title-if it does not mean revolution at all hazards, and under the most fearful consequences? The conspirators are now appealing to the worst possions of human nature for aid. They are fomenting great cities-over the plantations of the the foot-prints of incipient revolution every-where.
